Dear reader,

The Programme Manual has been made to provide project partners and potential participants with all the information needed to develop, implement and close a project within the Interreg IPA South Adriatic (Italy-Albania-Montenegro) Programme. This manual is a handy tool designed as a collection of fact sheets with concise information and guidance on the different aspects to be observed during each phase of the project life cycle.

Nevertheless, this manual does not replace any other documents, and we invite participants to study carefully the cooperation programme, the EU-structural funds regulations and other relevant information provided by the Partner State in which the project participant is situated.

This manual is meant to be interactive: Simply click on the factsheet, which is of interest for you and the respective document will automatically be opened. If the factsheets will be updated by the programme, an announcement will be published on the programme web portal and the new version will be made available for download at www.italy-albania-montenegro.eu, with indication of the new date of publication in the footer.

Please note that the versions numbers refer to different nature of changes. In particular the first two numbers refer to the version of the fact sheet (e.g. version 01) and are not going to change, unless there are substantial changes, i.e. new rules are introduced, rules are changed, procedure changes, etc., (e.g. version 02). The number after the point refers to new versions having only minor changes, i.e. stylistic, layout, clarification or explanations, reference links, etc. (e.g. version 01.2).

We hope you will find this manual useful and wish you a successful implementation of your South Adriatic project!

Yours,
Managing Authority & Joint Secretariat
